

Building Hope

► Adrian Foley, president, COO, Brookfield Residential

On Sept. 16, Hope Builders hosted its annual Light Up a Life gala, benefiting unskilled and unemployed Orange County youth. Through intensive job training and life skills counseling, Hope Builders works to empower youth with the tools to transform their lives. Nearly 530 guests attended the gala, honoring Brookfield Residential and raising over $640,000 in net proceeds.

“Over the last two years, we have seen the value Hope Builders can be to those in need. We are excited to get behind an organization that can grow in future years,” said Brookfield Residential President and Chief Operating Officer Adrian Foley.

Brookfield has committed $100,000 to Hope Builders over the next five years to help move 1,000 youth into the workforce.

