A NOTE FROM SHAWNA SMITH, CEO

Orange County needs Hope Builders. I know this because demand for our programs has never been greater than it is today. This is true among both our young adult clients and our employer partners. Hope Builders fills a critical gap in the workforce that no other organization fills quite as effectively. We know how to empower young adults from low-income communities with the skills they need to meet the needs of employers, advance in a career, and break the cycle of poverty. The experiences of Fabian and Jacqueline in the pages of this newsletter are a testament to that fact.

Orange County needs Hope Builders to grow. We stretched ourselves over this last year to demonstrate we could be as impactful in serving more young people and employers. The good news is we did it.

Now we need your help to sustain it. Gifts to this year's 10 Days for Launching Careers campaign can help us realize this vision. I hope you will join me in making a contribution today.

With gratitude,

Shawna Smith

THE CARVER FAMILY AND THE R.J. NOBLE COMPANY: GENEROUSLY PLEDGES A $150,000 MATCHING GRANT TO THE AMIGO SCHOLARSHIP PROGRAM

Since 2006, the Carver family and The R.J. Noble Company have generously invested in Hope Builders' efforts to help young adults in Orange County prepare for careers with local construction and healthcare employers.

Notably, in 2014, when Hope Builders was initially approached to open a third location in Anaheim, the Carver family and The R.J. Noble Company were the very first donors to step up in support of this ambitious endeavor with a $300,000 gift.

Once again, as the agency grows to double the number of young adults it enrolls annually, The R.J. Noble Company and the Carver family are hoping to inspire investment from others in the community with a $150,000 matching grant to support its Amigo Scholarship program.

KaSondra Gonzalez, Vice President of Administration & Marketing for The R.J. Noble Company, recently explained, “We’re pleased to offer this matching grant to support Hope Builders’ Amigo Scholarship program. We believe everyone deserves the support and guidance to successfully launch themselves on a pathway to prosperity. Please join us in making a lasting impact in the lives of Orange County’s young adults.”

In alignment with the company’s commitment to the values of hard work, integrity and compassion, The R.J. Noble Company remains a generous supporter of the mentorship, life skills and job skill training young adults need to meet the demands of local employers.

Hope Builders is very grateful to the Carver Family and The R.J. Noble Company for its 18 years of partnership.

If you are interested in seeing your donation matched, please consider becoming an Amigo today!
